Dear Eagle candidate,

This document is the LIFE TO EAGLE GUIDELINES workbook, Part 1, Published by South Florida Council, 1995. The forms included here cover pages 23-42 of that publication. In order to comply with copyright restrictions, I must now credit South Florida Council, Inc., and Boy Scouts of America. O.K., they're credited. Thanks, guys.

Currently 17 Templates are included this document. If your experience with documenting your Eagle project is anything like that which I have seen in the past, you will likely go through numerous revisions in order to properly complete your book. I spent several hours creating this and have checked it closely for errors. Should there yet be any, please call them to my attention. Good, bad or indifferent, I'd like to hear your input on this workbook and suggestions for improving it. As these suggestions come in, I will create additional forms to make the documentation of Eagle projects more efficient.

If you need additional motivation and have internet access, visit <http://www.ithaca.ny.us/Orgs/Scouts/sclrshps.html>

You won't be sorry.

I hope this workbook has now eliminated one of the headaches of the Eagle project for you....

So GET BUSY!

Yours in Scouting,

Doug Roach

EAGLE SCOUT SERVICE PROJECT WORKSHEET

“While a Life Scout, plan, develop, and give leadership to others in a service project helpful to any religious institution, any school, or your community.”

PLAN

As you plan, develop and carry out your Eagle project, use these pages to record your plans & progress. You may add any additional pages, as needed.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Broadly describe the Eagle service project you plan to do.

In this first phase of your Eagle service project, you are expected to conceptualize the idea, qualify its need, measurably define its goals and objectives, and determine the religious institution, school or community it would benefit.

In this section of your Eagle Scout Service Project Workbook, you should broadly describe the Eagle service project you plan to do and how it will benefit the organization for whom it is to be performed, measurably define its goals and objectives, and enter the name and location of the religious institution, school or community for whom it is undertaken.

Discuss your proposed Eagle service project with the appropriate authorizing official of the project, beneficiary, and then with your unit leader. Obtain their agreement for you to proceed.

Name of religious institution, school or community for whom your Eagle service project will be undertaken.
