Doug,

Your idea of using the resources of Scouters on this list sounds great. When it gets closer and you and others start planning tours, etc. in the Virginia/DC/Maryland area, don't forget to ask for ideas here. I know from our local e-mail list that there are a large number of Scouters from this area on the list either active, lurking or digesting. Many of these folks can help with ideas and perhaps arrangements. Likewise, as contingents travel from all reaches in this direction, I would be that there are large numbers of folks here on the list that could offer advice on stop-over points, attractions, etc.

Subject: Jambo97 Mailing List

Dear Mike, Fred, and Don -

I hope you don't mind, but I've enrolled you as guinea pigs in our fledging mailing list on Jamboree stuff. I'm about to (in my next e-mail message) subscribe you three through the administrator's function. You'll then get the standard welcome notice (which I'll work on to improve over the next couple of days). This is a "majordomo" list server which works similarly, but not exactly like the Scouts-L server. The basic functions are the same, just the commands are sometimes a little different.

Once you get your welcome from the list, would you mind sending a test message to the list, letting me know if it appears to be working? The list address is: jambo97@hoplite.org

I'll then extend an invitation to the 30 some other Scouters who have expressed an interest in Jamboree discussions to sign-on. Once we get settled I'll make the offer to the general Scouts-L list again. And (I believe this advice came Mike Walton) I'll try and summarize our discussions on some periodic basis for Scouts-L.

If you just can't _stand_ to be on another mailing list, then send email to:

majordomo@hoplite.org with a message body Unsubscribe jambo97

Thanks very much for your help.

....Doug

TO RECEIVE ARCHIVED POSTINGS -

Send to: majordomo@hoplite.org
Subject:
Body: get jambo97 index
end

By e-mail you will receive the index.

Then -

Send to: majordomo@hoplite.org
Subject:
Body: get jambo97 1996/v02.n071
end

NOTE: 1996 could be 1995 if that is what you want. Read the index.
/v02.n071 is just one of the archives - pick the one you want.
* should be able to be used as a wild card for all at any point you want.
such as 1996/v02.n* but I did not want to try it due to size and time.

Good Luck and Happy Reading !

I forwarded the index of jambo97 on previous posting. For those who want to get the list at index at any time send e-mail to:

To: majordomo@hoplite.org

Subject:

'Body: get index jambo97
end

Now that you have the index, use the same address to &

'Body': get jambo97 1996/v02.n071
end

This is just an example which would give you the digest 1996 vol. 2 # 071

NOTE: The wild card * should be able to be used to include all - such as:

get jambo97 1996/v02.n07* (to give you all # 0 - 9) ?

I hope that is clear.

Happy Reading,

Harlan
