B-P Quotes:

Shooting at a fixed target is only a step towards shooting at a moving one, like a man.

--Lord Baden-Powell Scouting for Boys(1908)

Make yourselves good scouts and good rifle shots in order to protect the women and children of your country if it should ever become necessary.

> --Lord Baden-Powell Scouting for Boys(1908)

We have all got to die some day; a few years more or less of our lives don't much matter if by dying a year or two sooner than we should otherwise do from disease we can help to save the flag of our country from going under.

--Lord Baden-Powell Scouting for Boys (1908)

Personally, I should like to see all Boy Scouts drilled. I look upon the Movement as a further savings of the situation for the nation in the future, and that it will pave the way directly for its national service.

--Lord Baden-Powell letter to Lord Meath (1910)

Our gallant fellows at the front are carrying their football training into practice on the battlefield. They are 'playing the game' in all conscience.

THE IMPACT OF SCOUTING

Boy Scout Alumni are:

71% of football captains

65% of basketball captains

85% of student council presidents

88% of school newspaper editors

77% of editors of school annuals

75% of business managers of school publications

80% of junior class presidents

89% of senior class presidents

65% of college graduates

72% of Rhodes scholars

75% of Military Academy graduates

65% of U.S. Congress

85% of Airline Pilots

85% of F.B.I. Agents

26 of the first 29 astronauts.

11 of the 12 who walked on the moon.

108 of 172 astronauts were boy scouts.

Over half of the 108 attained Star, Life, or Eagle rank.

For every 100 Youths involved in Scouting:

12 will have their first contact with a church.

5 will earn their religious emblem.

1 will enter the clergy

1 will use Scout skills to save a life.

1 will use Scout skills to save his own life.

2 will become Eagle Scouts.

8 will enter professions first learned through the Merit Badge system.

17 will become Scouting volunteers and pass their skills, inspiration, and leadership to countless youth.

18 will develop hobbies that will give them lifelong interest.

Only rarely will one ever appear in juvenile court.

And yet, SCOUTING reaches only 25% of the youth in the United States.

Note: These figures taken from the Jan/Feb. 1991 issue of Scouters Digest.

Subject: Professional Training Highlights

Keeping with my personal goal of always letting the Volunteers know about the cutting edge of Scouting; I submit the following: REPORT FROM THE NORTHEAST REGIONAL TRAINING CONFERENCE.

Every 4 years the BSA has regional training conferences for Scouting professionals (Formally called "All Hands Meetings"). At these meetings the majority of the professional Scouters in the regions gather for the latest in materials and to be inspired by the current national themes. I attended the Northeast regional conference. Other regions may have had slightly different programing, but I'm sure the information given out was the same.

As many in the BSA know the following are the current national areas of emphasis:

1) Positive growth in traditional Scouting membership (more Cubs, Scouts &

Explorers)

- 2) Positive Public Relations
- 3) An Urban Emphasis
- 4) Local Council Endowment Development

Some of the newest and most interesting materials offered include: (numbers in parentheses are supply division or "bin" order numbers)

* TROOP DEVELOPMENT AND RETENTION KIT (FOR DISTRICT EXECUTIVES) The newest

ideas and methods for starting new units and keeping the kids you have. Part of the national theme/program called: Delivering the promise. Look forward to seeing the "Delivering the Promise" logo (a Scout in the old "field cap" saluting) on other materials as this theme takes off.

* CONSERVATION GOOD TURN, a booklet about the implementation of a council level conservation good turn (21-386). Includes sample press releases, a certificate (21-389), and sample grant letter to fund the effort for the council. Also a 1 page fact sheet (21-395)

* VARSITY SCOUT COACH START UP (18-997), a set of materials to better "fast start" a varsity Scout coach.

- * NEW PRINTING 'HIGHLIGHTS FOR UNIT COMMISSIONERS....AN OVERVIEW" (34721)
- * FACT SHEET NEW CUB LEADER BASIC TRAINING (13-921)
- * NEW AUDIO/VISUAL PRODUCTS
 - * Webelos WOW (AV-01V007) Webelos Recruitment Video
 - * Cub Leader Basic Training (AV-01V008) Video
 - * Posts in Action (AV-03V007) Post member training by showing good posts in action. Video
 - * The Exploring Challenge (AV-03V008) Exploring Recruitment) Video
 - * Visions: Scouting in Urban Community (AV-07V008) Market Scouting

to

Urban Chartering Organizations. Video

- * The Rock Climb (AV-700C) Slides/Audio Cassette. Introduction to rock climbing for Scouts.
- * Campfire stories (AV-701) Slides/Audio Cassette. Recruitment with Scouts tell stories about Scouting around a campfire.
- * COPE: the fun and challenge begin. Slides/Cassette. Shows techniques and goals of COPE.
- * Risk Management Roundtable Video (Insurance and Liability for units) (# not given, due late September) and many other items revised/updated (mostly minor updates of past items still in print)

Highlights of the Conference include:

- * Booths by almost 100 councils displaying their "best methods." Most councils had a program or idea that was working well for them and they shared excellent materials. Topics ranged from Cub day camp to Fund raising to public relations materials.
- * Each professional took informative classes that allowed him/her to learn more about specific topics of interest (they got to choose 5 out of almost 75 offered)
- * Break out sessions for every one on Cub Recruitment and Retention, and the Scout Family SME/FOS fund raising campaign.

NOTE: given the variety information presented here, please do not post questions to the Scouts-L list asking for more information about a certain topic. Contact your local council (but not too soon, they need time to evaluate and implement many of these topics). I would prefer that you not mention my name as the Source of this information, in that many Scout Professional may take offense to you getting this information before they give it to you. (As a result a future boss of mine may get a bad impression.) Thanks in advance. P.S.: If you really need to more about a certain item, please private E-Mail me.

Subject: Re: National Office

Dave,

Let me help narrow the gap a little. I have a 5th Ed., 6th printing of the Handbook for Boys (June 1953) that shows the 2 Park Avenue Address in

New York and a 5th Ed., 11th printing (October 1957) that shows New Brunswick, New Jersey.

There was a question whether the National Office was located in New Brunswick or North Brunswick. This is understandable because Scouting literature printed in the late 50s and in the 60s shows the National Council address at New Brunswick. Literature printed in the 70s shows the address as North Brunswick. New Brunswick and North Brunswick share a common border with New Brunswick being north of North Brunswick. If I recall correctly some of the National offices moved to North Brunswick around 1970.

We can't in those days but we sure can now. I am still absolutely fried about the cost of going to the International Jamboree. There is no justification anyway, anyhow for it costing $3000 but for the subsidizing of National Junkets. We have a half empty collection of planes for Northeast Region and BSA is going to lose its shirt on this one.

Subject: Re: Name Change for Northeast Region

Fred,

Interesting news? Who told your folks this? Any name change is going to cost some bucks in terms of letterhead, signs, record forms, etc. and not only at the regional level but for local councils too. Now just when its getting pretty tough to meet FOS/SME goals and some United Way outfits are cutting back support, this rare commodity (money) is to be spent on a cosmetic change? Are you sure this isn't just a trial ballon to see what the reaction is going to be?

IMHO I don't thing a name change is warranted. Northeast Region covers the territory more accurately than North or Northern (We in NE sure don't include Montana, Idaho, Washington and Alaska and they sure as heck are North or I'll toss my compasses out the window!). I can understand some of the other regional name changes, but this one, if real, is a bit much.

If it is in the works, then I suggest that those of us in NE ought to be writing to our Scout Execs and Region to ask why its worth the money its going to cost and who's going to be raising the money for that one. Where I grew up we used to try to squeeze the s___ out of the buffalo on the nickel. Guess its a wee bit of my Scottish heritage comming out, but I think this is one where we could afford to be stingy.

Subject: Re: AFS Scouts and Flag/Uniform Respect

Chuck raised an interesting point about BSA beginning to discourage a Scouts-military connection in WWII. At the time of our original charter (1915) Europe was in its second year of what has become known as WWI. At that time BSA uniforms were very similar to military uniforms of the day and there was concern that BSA might be come a para-military preparatory organization. This was dispelled in the chartering process.

The Judiciary Committee of the House in recommending passage of the Act creating the Charter stated:

"The Boy Scout movement is no one seeking to promote a juvenile military system, but is intended to supplement and enlarge established modern educational facilities in activities in the great and healthful out of doors where may be the better developed physical strength and endurance.

self-reliance, and the posers of initiative and resourcefulness, all for the purpose of establishing through the boys of today the very highest type of American citizenzhip." House Report 130, 64th Cong., 1st Sess.

>From its beginning BSA has been careful to avoid a direct connection with the military. But the need to make this clear became extremely important with the onset of WWII. There was a need to make clear that we were not running an equivalent of the Hitler Youth which eventually became compulsory for all youth between 10 and 18 and also became the largest youth organization in the Western World up to that time. When Germany was planning its invasion of Western Europe and later England, attentions was given to planning the roundup of Scout leaders and suppression of Scouting as a potentially dangerous para-military organization (a case of we see others through our own reflection). A lot of the "discouragement" of a connection was really aimed at blunting propaganda and preventing a comparison.

Jim Harrison,

Where have you been? The Northeast Region retained its name after the mergers last year. Yes, this group of Scouters is aware of the mergers. That however is not the issue. At issue is the pending name change of Northeast Region a year after the mergers, which did little to change the composition of Northeast Region.

Subject: Famous Scouts

I recently picked up a Fact Sheet on celebrities with a scouting background at the National BSA office. It appears to have been created about 10 years ago. Of course, it is not a "complete" list. It is just a sample of men who were influenced by the scouting program.

I also learned that John Glenn was not a scout. I was under the impression that he earned Eagle. According to one biographer, Glenn wanted to be a scout but his town did not have a troop. So, he and his buddies started a group which they called the Rangers. Glenn has been a scout leader and did receive the Silver Beaver award.

For more information, contact the BSA at the address listed below.

Invitation to these conferences is upon recommendation of the local council or one of the BSA s National Committees. Participants may earn 2.8 continuing education units.

The conference schedule permits ample time for family activities, day hiking, and recreation. Families check-in on Sunday afternoon, and depart on Saturday morning. Conferences and family programs begin early Monday morning. Family programs are planned for all ages - infant through adult. Your family will enjoy a staff-led program of hiking, tours, handicrafts, games, campfires, and outdoor activities. A Cub Scout Day Camp, Boy Scout program, and a 5-day backcountry camping adventure for Explorer-age youth is included.

All meals are provided in Philmont s dining halls. Housing for participants is in a tent city environment in large, two-person wall tents on platforms with twin beds and electricity. Towels and bedding are provided. Modern restrooms with showers are located in the tent cities. Support services are provided by a medical facility, chapels, laundry, trading posts, and a handicraft lodge. Full details on programs, facilities, and services are sent to conference participants upon registration.

Fees for Conference Participants are $245 for the week. For Spouses and Children over 18, $175. Children ages 6 to 18 are $155. Children ages 3-5 are $95. And Children 2 and under are $20. NJLIC and Mountain Trek fees are $180. Fees include meals, conference and program materials, and lodging.

Subject: Re: Scout Astronauts

One name was missing from the Eagle Scout Astronaut list....

Sonny Carter of Warner Robins Georgia was an Astronaut on one mission, STS-41

(I think). He was in training for a second mission when he was killed in a commuter plane crash in Brunswick Georgia along with former Texas Senator John Tower.

Sonny was a very special person to many in the Central Georgia Council (Macon Georgia). Sonny was a very active member of the council, having served as a lodge officer in Echeconnee Lodge, and a staff member at Camp Ben Hawlkins.

The Heath Lodge there is named in his honor.

In his life, Sonny was a top student at college and the Valdectorian at this High School, he excelled in many things and even served a stint as a Soccer Player for the Atlanta Kicks.

Three weeks before he died so suddenly he submitted a patch design for the 1992 session of summer camp. It is ironic that Sonny Carter, who had excelled in the Sports World and as an Astronaut, would stay so active in scouting & his council. He never passed the opportunity to speak to area scout troops when he was at home when his NASA training schedule permitted.

When checking handbooks, etc., to determine whether you have the most recent edition with new requirements, you need to look at more than the copyright date. In most BSA manuals and handbooks you will see something like:

Copyright (C) 1986 7th Printing 1993 8th Printing 1994 9th Printing 1995

The 9th Printing will have changes made from the 8th Printing and so forth. This accounts for why a handbook with only the 1986 Copyright date and no printings listed did not have a current Bobcat requirement.

George,

Yours is a great idea and one that is shared. I have already started a page at the U.S.Scouting Service Project Web Site at http://www.hiwaay.net/usscouts/index under "The Scouter's Reference Room"

Currently I've only listed material related to Commissioners. In the next week I'll be sending a long list of material related to religious emblems and religion and Scouting. I've just got Scouting's Library of Literature and will be making entries based on that too. In addition this page features all of the non-Scouting books that folks on Scouts-L have suggested as good sources of information; e.g., books on teamwork, knots, leadership, etc.

I'd welcome anyone willing to help and contribute to making the Scouters' Reference Room a better resource. George, any help you could offer won't be turned down. Any ideas of resource material would be welcome. Share them here on the list to help everyone, if you want and I'll capture them for the web site. Or if you want, send them to me directly.

Subject: Return From Philmont

Just got back from my week at the Philmont Training Center (PTC). Had a great time. It was a strange week too. Philmont is under a complete fire ban like most of New Mexico, USA. Trek Crews do get to use their camp stoves, but only in the fire ring provided at an approved campsite. NO SMOKING. You may smoke in your closed up car or next to the PTC office on the concrete. No where else!!

PTC has new paved roads and parking lots. Nice surprise. Another nice surprise was the new schedule. Classes start on Monday so Sunday is a very nice family and move-in day.

It was also very quite. You see, the Scouts did not start coming in until Wednesday, so we had PTC and Camping Headquarters (CHQ) all to ourselves.

They have also added tours of CHQ for the PTC folks. Very interesting.

At the time we left Philmont on Saturday Morning, there were 46 fires burning in New Mexico. There were some 7 in Philmont over the week (4 in the first day). On the first day, we also heard that it had taken over six hours to bring down a staffer that was up on the Tooth of Time and had broken her leg. Some of the backcountry program areas were closed like Blacksmith.

We also had a wet week. All the locals were happy to see the rain. We got so much rain that Philmont was under a Flash Food Watch and Warning. Eagles

Net Lake looked like it was 10 feet down in water.

There was also some interesting info from the National Office folks. This one bit will be hard to fully understand, but I'll try.

Woodbadge...

There is some concern about Woodbadge. The concern is the "I was a 'whatever'" and this type grouping (can't think of a better word) and the put downs if you are not in that group (beaver, owl, fox, etc.). It seems that National has taken some note of this when the Supply Division saw a very large sales increase in Woodbadge items. While nothing is being done right now, it looks like some new committee or a current committee may start looking into this. NO ONE IS SAYING THIS IS A PROBLEM. It is a concern as to recruitment of new leaders one put it. Someone said that some form a change is needed to put the "Advance Training Back Into Woodbadge Instead Of

The Current View". You may never see anything come of this, but BSA knows about it.

Rocket & Boats...

Great effort is taking place to try to return these items back to wood. With Space Derby Rockets blowing up like the new "foam" version does, new safety concerns have come up. Concern also for the scouts to have fun and display their crafts, not a pile of "while foam".

Pinewood Derby...

Strange survey figure was given. The number one type of phone calls that the Chief Scout Exec and the BSA President get from outside of the National Office is from the parents of 2nd place finishers of Pinewood Derbies. As we have all seen, some parents take their children's sport very seriously. The Pinewood Derby is BSA's version.

Boy's Life...

>From the head of Boy's Life...The only way for you to get the Cub Scout version instead of the Boy Scout version of Boy's Life is to be a registered

Cub Scout or in a Cub Pack Leadership position as your PRIMARY registration.

Commissioners and Cub Scout Roundtable staff get the Boy Scout version. This is a computer programming problem that will be fixed when National rewrites the registration programs. When will this happen? No one knows.

Tiger Cubs...

Materials on the "Enhanced Tigers" should be at all councils by now. Materials for the packs and leaders will take a little longer.

Two Deep Leadership...

So far, nothing has changed here. Don't be surprised if a statement on this comes along soon. Two Deep is a must...more is better.

Internet...

The only talk about this is that BSA has WEB Pages up. The BSA communication pipeline continues to be from National down through the Councils to the units. While in the Resource Room at PTC, I went over the material that was prepared when Skill Awards were dumped and Venture, and

New Scout patrols started. Interesting how some of that information that council's got, I never heard about until the new Scoutmaster Handbook was published.

Tour Permits...

A must for everything, but does nothing. What? The protection that filing a Tour Permit gives you (as well as Parent Permission Slips) is to show that thought and planning were done for that outing. A strong reminder was made that for any transportation used in a scout outing requires a tour permit. This seemed very strange when compared to the first part. Anyway, file those Tour Permits TWO WEEKS BEFORE you leave.

Uniforms...

Nothing was said about uniforms. They did keep repeating, check the Insignia Control Guidebook for the latest information on the uniform. Must have heard that one 12 times.

Philmont...

It's full. Even more demand for the backcountry program is expected. PTC is growing too. More programs will be added in the future. Sign up, get invited, and go.

Jamboree 97...

The physical space available to BSA at A.P. Hill is at its limits. The Army will not give any more space (for now). 35,000 Scouts and Scouters is the limit. That may change once the fee payments start coming in. Dan R. Ruth (D.R. RUTH), who heads up the group organizing the Jamboree said, "we just have to wait and see." Councils have already started asking to bring more troops. They need more staff for that new fourth Action Area. Also said that opening and closing ceremony days are the best days to see the jamboree and DRINK LOTS OF WATER.

The BSA Program...

All parts of the BSA that is printed is available and open to all members of the organization except when noted (legal stuff I am sure). So if you want that book on the Camping Committee, but you are not even on the District Committee, that's O.K. You can order it and read it as much as you want. This is the only way we all well be able to bring the same quality program to everyone. There is still lots of room for creativity in the BSA. We just have to follow the program guidelines.

That's the latest that I got from the BSA National folk at PTC. Another important point was made at Philmont. All the information you get from the national folks is subject to change. It only becomes OFFICIAL if it comes through your local Council or is on the BSA WEB Pages or the current BSA printed materials. So, if you have a question about anything I have typed here, contact your local council and find out the latest they know.

Anyway, it was another fun time for me and my wife at Philmont. Our first time (in 1994), she asked, "When can we come back." This time she said, "When can we come back and stay TWO weeks." I think she likes Philmont too.

Fellow Scouters,

You may be interested to know that this month's Journal of Business Strategy includes a rather informative article about BSA called "Leading with a Sense of

Basic topic as summarized by the magazine is "Chief Scout Executive Jere Ratcliffe is leading Americas's premier youth organization through its first long-range plan.

Other items (details) mentioned are rightsizing,urban planning, and "Square Knots on the Bottom Line" ($$$$).

The urban planning section is enlightening as it discusses BSA's moves into things like Varsity Scouts, and In School Scouting as deviations from things like Scoutcraft and the outdoors.

If you cannot get a copy of this let me know. I will scan (while trying out my ocr scanner) and post it in a few days. (does anyone know of any copyright

Subject: Re: International Camp Staff Program

Armando,

The International Camp Staff Program is an on-going enrichment program run by the BSA with the help of the United States Information Agency. It is designed to provide exposure to U.S. Scouts to Scouting as done in other countries as well as provide an opportunity for foreign Scouters to learn about Scouting in the USA.

The program is open to male and female Scouters ages 18 through 30 that have a minimum working knowledge of English. The Scouters work at Cub and Scout camps run by individual Councils, normally during the summer months of June through August.

The BSA acts as a clearing house to match Scouters from other countries with Councils in the U.S. that want to add an international exposure at their camps. Each council must pay the BSA a $300 fee to use this service. Each foreign Scouter must pay the BSA a $135 registration fee.

The BSA provides the necessary visa forms and handles administrative matters as well as providing health and accident insurance. Each council must pay the foreign Scouter a wage that is equivalent to a U.S. worker as well as provide food and lodging.

I believe the type of visa obtained through this program is a J-1 visa, which means that you can only be on camp staff twice.

Further information can be obtained from:

Boy Scouts of America International Camp Staff Program International Division, S221 1325 West Walnut Hill Lane P.O. Box 152079 Irving, TX 75015-2079

The information provided in this message is from a 1995 BSA bulletin. Cost information may, therefore, be out of date.

I have provided an answer to this question to the general list because I thought it may be of interest to Scouters in other countries as well as of interest to Scouters here in the U.S.

For the past several years we have had Scouters from other countries on staff at one of our camps. It has been an excellent experience for everyone involved. I definitely recommend it for other camps.

At 07:02 AM 11/5/96 -0600, Mark W. Arend wrote about the experience that various American presidents had with Scouting. There are some things that I remember reading at one time or another which might point you in the right direction to learn more.

- 1) Teddy Roosevelt was active as a volunteer Scouter and registered as a Council Commissioner in Florida after he had left the presidency.
- 2) John F. Kennedy was a Second Class Scout in Troop 1 of Hyannisport, Massachusetts.
- 3) Lyndon B. Johnson formed an Explorer Post for the pages in the U.S. House of Representatives whilst he was Speaker of the House. I believe I was told that he was registered as a Scouter within that Post.
- 4) Jimmy Carter was a Cubmaster at one time.

- 5) Gerald Ford is an Eagle Scout. He was a Boy Scout in Grand Rapids, Michigan.
- 6) Bill Clinton was a Cub Scout.

Other items of possible interest:

- 1) Hubert H. Humphrey, former vice-president of the USA was a Scoutmaster during the 1930s.
- 2) King Juan Carlos of Spain was a Boy Scout in Greece.
- 3) Queen Sophia of Spain was a Girl Guide in Greece.
- 4) Queen Elizabeth II of England was a Girl Guide.
- 5) King Karl Gustav of Sweden was a Boy Scout. He reportedly shows up at World Jamborees in Boy Scout uniform and visits his national contingent and walks around the jamboree. One of my Scouts who attended the World Jamboree in Korea told me that the king camped overnight with the Swedish contingent. He also told me that a Swedish Scout leader told him that King Karl Gustav has been a registered Scouter for decades.

Memory is a fragile thing, so I may not be correct in all of these items. I hope that this proves to be of some assistance to your.

Yours in Scouting,

Rodger

I have been doing research for some trivia questions I am putting together and thought there might be enough interest to post this to the list. President Kennedy was the first former Scout to be elected President. I contacted the Presidential Libraries of the last 7 Presidents and the White House asking about the Scouting background of the Presidents & First Ladies.

Here are the replies:

It's only coincidence I send thse out on Election day. I sent the questions about a month ago and figure that I have all the responses I am going to get.

No response from the Kennedy or Johnson Libraries.

- >From the Nixon Library:
- >President Nixon was not a Boyscout. However we are not sure of whether
- >Pat was a Girl Scout. We do know that she was a big supporter of Girl
- >Scouts, in fact, her two daughters, Julie and Tricia, were both Girl
- >Scouts.
- >From the Ford Library (President Ford was the first Eagle Scout elected President):
- >Thank you for your inquiry asking whether Mrs. Ford was ever a Girl
- >Scout. The answer to your question is no, she was not a Girl Scout.

>From the Carter Library:

- >Plains, Georgia was so small and isolated in the 1920s
- >and 1930s that there was no scouting program. Neither
- >Mr. or Mrs. Carter were in the scouts. Mr. Carter was a
- >school boy patrolman on a rural bus and a member of
- >the Future Farmers of America.
- >From the Reagan Library:
- >Thank you for your recent request regarding wether President Reagan
- >was a Boy Scout and whether Mrs. Reagan was a Girl Scout. Neither
- >the President nor Mrs. Reagan were involved in scouting in their youth.
- >As has been tradition since the Presidency of William Howard Taft, the
- >President of the United States has been named as Honorary President of
- >the Boy Scouts of America. President Reagan was presented with his >honorary membership card on February 5, 1981.

>Every First Lady has been named Honorary President of the Girl Scouts, >of First Lady of the Girl Scouts since Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

No response from the Bush Library or the White House.

Theodore Roosevelt was a strong supporter of Scouting and was named "Chief Scout Citizen", a title which I have not heard before; has anyone else been so named?

Franklin Roosevelt was also a Scouting supporter. There was a program on PBS several years ago; one of the pictures they showed was of FDR with a group of Scouts at camp in the summer of 1921. If memory serves correctly the program said that it was the last photo of FDR standing on his own and the implication was that he may have picked up the polio virus at the Camp.

Oh. and I'm back from vacation.

I found Mark Arend's information interesting. I would like to add that Franklin Roosevelt also was awarded the Silver Buffalo. It is on display at the Roosevelt Presidental Library, Hyde Park, NY.

I've been exhuming my desk from the past week's accumulation and about three layers down I found a real letter from the LBJ Library (apparently emailed requests are answered via snailmail). It tells me that there was no Scout Troop in Johnson City while the President was growing up but that he was registered with Capitol Area Council in Austin, Tex in 1939. Both of the Johnson daughters were Girl Scouts.

And there was a mistake in my original posting--a slip of the tongue (fingers?). Gerald Ford was the first Eagle Scout to become President but he was, of course, not elected President; he was chosen by Pres. Nixon to replace VP Agnew who had to resign.

About 1.4 million Scouts have been awarded the Eagle Scout Award, which is achieved by approximately 2 percent of Scouts.

The five merit badges most often earned are First Aid, Swimming, Cooking, Camping, and Safety.

Of men listed in Who's Who in America, 70 percent were members of the BSA as youth.

Pinewood derby cars made by Cub Scout with their parents could form a line from Los Angels to new York and back, a total of more than 5,500 miles.

Philmont Scout Ranch has more than 24,000 participants annually who combined, hike approximately 1.4 million miles.

The top three areas of choice by Explorers are outdoor, religion, and law enforcement.
