To borrow a bit from your Parliament, "Hear, hear!" (or at least as portrayed by the boob tube.

Harry,

Your question stumps me. Its the first time I've heard of it being a cheer in general use and I've participated in Scouting in the Midwest, Northwest and now Virginia. I glanced through the History of Wood Badge in the U.S. and didn't see any reference. Nor did I find any in my collection of cheers. The only thing close was a note in camp staff log book from back in 75 when we had a Camp Director that absolutely drilled into his staff that an announcement should state who, what, when, where, why, and how. As might be expected he was notorious in making announcements that honored his rule in the breach. The Staff frequently responded back to him in the Dining Hall with Who? Who?, When? When?, Why? Why?, How? How?, etc. In this case I don't think it was an accolade.

One of the best resources around for finding good clean, fun cheers and applauses for Pack meetings is a book called "All The Applauses We Could Find" by John L. Van Da Walker III and published by Thorne Printing Co., 623 12th Avenue Road, P.O. Box 447, Nampa, Idaho 83653-0447
Telephone
208-446-3682. This was published back in 1989 and I purchased my copy in 1994 for less than $10. Hopefully these folks are still around.
